Nature Day Camp runs from 9 am to 2 pm. Campers bring snacks, lunch, and a re-fillable water bottle. To accommodate campers with nut allergies, we ask that no camper bring tree nuts and peanuts in their lunch and snacks. The Nature Center can't guarantee strict adherence to this request, but we try.

The Endless Mountains Nature Center reserves the right to adapt programs as circumstances require.

Counselors-In-Training (CIT) are teen volunteers who assist the professional staff. Spaces are limited to four per week, and are an important part of the camp program. The CIT registration fee was suspended to allow teens to use the time at camp for community service requirements.
